CHIEF JUSTICE Renato Corona kept more than $12 million in "fresh deposits" in five banks where he maintained $2 dollar accounts between April 2010 and early this year, Ombudsman Conchita Carpio Morales yesterday testified at the Senate impeachment trial of Corona.

Morales said fresh deposits referred to deposits that did not move. "They remained in the particular accounts," she said.

Corona, when the Office of the Ombudsman is investigating an alleged unexplained wealth, has repeatedly denied holding at least $30 million in bank deposits.

The Chief Justice declared a net worth of $22.9 million in his statement of assets, liabilities and net worth for 2011.

With the assistance of the Commission on Audit (COA), Morales said her office came up with the total amount of Corona's dollar deposits based on a report that the Anti-Money Laundering Council (AMLC).

unfortunate. I don't know how the case up with her own constitutional expenses. She made a bodypodge out of the accounts, making her numbers throbic.

The number of accounts alone is at least ridiculous. Her Powerpoint diagram is a laudable list which only LEAD defense counsel Renato Corona may have found his match in Ombudsman Conchita Carpio Morales.

Corona and Morales—both retired associate justices of the Supreme Court—yesterday engaged in heated exchanges on Day 37 of the impeachment trial of Chief Justice Renato Corona.

But just as Morales, 70, showed up at her seat, the 60-year-old Corona was not exactly as his challenger.

Corona was repeatedly re-luffed, scolded, and even scolded while conducting a direct examination of Morales for nearly an hour. In the end, Morales proved to be a tough nut to crack, even by a seasoned litigator like Corona.

She repeatedly told the court that she was already sounding like "a broken record" when asked by the defense to respond to certain questions.

Corona gazed Morales in a variety of ways, particularly

PH welcomes China fishing ban in Panatag

By Norman Boradora and Jennifer Arling

DAWNO CITY—Spring Scarborough Shoal has already suffered ecological damage, President Aquino on Monday welcomed China's declaration of a fishing ban in the disputed waters.

That does not mean, however, that the Philippines recognizes the Chinese ban on fishing in the South China Sea, which Manila calls West Philippine Sea.

The Department of Foreign Affairs (DFA) said it supported the President's decision to ban fishing at Scarborough Shoal, which the Philippines calls Prata Shoal, on Wednesday.

Gun instructor shot dead

Killers leave spray-painted message in victim's dining room

By Kristine Felton Macatangay

IN THE END, a part-time gun instructor's familiarity with every type and caliber of firearms proved a double-edged sword after four men barged into his home in Marikina City before dawn yesterday and shot him dead.

Martinez Jr., a financial consultant and gun enthusiast who, he has spent time might policemen at Camp Crame how to handle their firearms.

While the motive for the killing has yet to be determined, police investigators were looking into the possibility that it may have something to do with his work as a financial consultant.

This was after they found the message written in spray paint in the dining room: "Happy birthday Augustin (Agin, you know the number)." "However, the police said they did not know if the Agin mentioned in the message was Martinez himself.

They added that the status whether the Agin is connected to the case when they were asked about the status.

Martinez's death was reported to the police by his live-in partner, Mariel Ferrer, who said she was in an adjacent room with her 3-year-old child in the couple's house at 5555 Villa Subdivisions when she heard three shots ring out.

She called the immediately after someone knocked on the door of her room. "When she opened her door slightly, she saw several men. She shut the door and locked it immediately," Ferrer said.

Ferrer said the police said they did not know how the men got into her room, where she locked one of the windows, she saw them leaving the house and driving away in two vehicles, a Toyota Land Cruiser and a Toyota Hilux.

QTV with license plate 355-666.

At noon, as they left, Ferrer went to the victim's room and saw his handgun on the floor beside a bloodstained blanket. His feet were together with a piece of rope.

Upon initial examination, police investigators found a gunshot wound on the victim's forehead although there were four other wounds and a bullet from a gun of a well-underestimated caliber in the event.

Ferrer said that Ferrer had told them that three of the victims' firearms were missing, raising the possibility that he may have been shot by the same with his own gun.

PH banks' resources rose 6.8% in February

With income levels up, depositors said to be saving more

By Michelle K. Barne

MANILA Resources rose 6.8 percent in February to P7.54 trillion—up from the P7.36 trillion reported in the same month last year, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas said.

Monetary officials believe that the rise in the banking sector's resources—which include deposits, retained earnings and capital—may signal an increase in lending, strengthening the economy much this year to accelerate growth following last year's slowdown.

Officials said the rise in banks' resources was driven largely by an increase in deposits—a consequence of steadily rising incomes that allowed people and companies to borrow more.

BSP data showed that retained and common funds accounted for both of the resources with P6.76 trillion, or 91 percent higher than the P6.27 trillion of February last year.

Unlabeled and commercial banks, which were on the financial records of large enterprises, have been urged to increase their loans to the public.

They are encouraged to use their resources to fund big debt investment projects, such as public infrastructure being pushed by the government.

Now, bank loans accounted for P590.50 billion of the sector's total resources as of mid-February. This was up by 6.5 percent from the P558.60 billion of the same month last year.

Bank loans accounted for P481.40 billion of the sector's resources—up by 2.2 percent from the P470.60 billion reported in the same period.

Small and rural banks are encouraged to accelerate lending to micro, small, and medium enterprises (MSMEs), lending to small businesses will help reduce poverty incidence by improving the plight of low-income earners, BSP officials said.

According to economists, the Philippines is growing, but the benefits of growth have not translated into poverty reduction.

The economy grew by 3.7 percent last year, slowing down from the 5.6 percent reported in 2008.

The BSP said the rising resources of banks in the country should help them accelerate growth in lending and help restore their creditworthiness.

Outstanding loans from banks grew by nearly 30 percent in 2011 to about P2.7 trillion.

The BSP said that despite the substantial growth in bank loan growth, banks were urged to continue to further expand their lending activities.

Kepco-SPC taps NGCP facilities in Visayas

By Atty. R. Barne

MANILA—Korea Electric Power Corp. (KEPCO) and the National Grid Corporation of the Philippines (NGCP) have signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to use the NGCP's transmission facilities in the Visayas region for the transmission of power from the 200 megawatt and first power plant in Naga, Iloilo in the Visayas grid.

The MOU said the agreement would result in a "mutual, continuous and efficient supply of power to the Visayas area."

The MOU also said that the use of the facilities owned by National Grid Corporation of the Philippines would be on a non-exclusive basis.

The MOU also said that the use of the facilities owned by National Grid Corporation of the Philippines would be on a non-exclusive basis. The MOU also said that the use of the facilities owned by National Grid Corporation of the Philippines would be on a non-exclusive basis.

KEPCO-SPC has power supply deals with Manila Electric Co. (Meralco) and Luzon Electric Co. (Luzon Electric).

Atlas sees 16% growth in copper shipments

IT&E Consolidated Mining and Development Corp. aims to jack up by 16 percent the volume of copper concentrates shipped out of the Itasca mine, which is operated by Baguio subsidiary Gannex Copper Corp. (GXC) this 2012.

Miner vice president and general Adnan Ramon on Friday said that goal this year would be to make 20 to 30 shipments equivalent to about 10 million pounds (M) of copper this year. The overall amount is about $300 million based on the company's current global price range of $3.40 to $3.50/lb. this year.

This will translate to a 3.4 percent increase in its shipment rate from $290 million to $310 million lb of copper last year. The growth in value was expected to be done than the increase in volume because global prices have softened this year compared to last year when GXC sold copper concentrates for about $1 per lb, Ramon said.

Typically demand for base metals like copper track the performance of the global economy which is widely expected to falter this year due to the weak economic performance of the United States, Europe and Japan, and the softening of China's economy.

But even demand for copper is down as the price could soften this year. Although China growth is softening, he said it was unlikely that it would suffer from a hard landing.

Most of GXC's copper exports are shipped to Chinese markets and shipped through M&T Trading AG. There are some shipments going to Korea, Ramon said. "They have one product because it's clean," he said.

The April, Ramon said the three shipments made by GXC was moved for the Asia group since it received copper production in 2008. It was earlier reported that GXC had posted $14.66 million worth of third exports in April, with 0.58 million pounds of possible copper. This was the company's March 2012 export of 300 million, with 3.52 million pounds of possible exports.

The group has 300,000 ounces to 420,000 daily throughput, up from about 300,000 processed daily last year. The long-term goal is to process more than 60,000 daily. Mining throughput relies on an area of how often mine concentrates are being mined and high prices.

On the entry of the SMI group in Itasca, Ramon said this year is in line with the goal of bringing a strong strategic partner to the company. The Gannex family also recently increased its stake in the company to a majority position.

Asked whether more institutional investors would come in, Ramon said, "We were trying to attract investors, although the company was not definitely like to bring in institutional investors... and long equity funds."

The Asia group means mining area has a life span of about 15 years. It has estimated mining reserves of about 400 million tons of copper and a total reserves of about 12 billion tons. "One of our strengths is to increase reserves," he said.

Hyundai rebble sales up 35% in first 4 months

By Amy R. Reyes

MM&D of Hyundai rebble sales rose by 35 percent to 3,655 units in the first four months of 2012, from 2,672 units reported for the same period last year.

In a statement issued yesterday, official distributor Hyundai Asia, Inc., said that for April alone, the company's rebble sales rose by 12 percent to 1,005 units from 1,297 units sold in the same month last year.

"We begin the second quarter with a strong sales performance based on a continued favorable business climate and positive consumer outlook. Our strong vehicle portfolio and the entry of new models coupled with aggressive brand building efforts will allow us to up through the remainder of the year," said HAI president and CEO Min Jo, in Seoul, Korea.

Growth in the first four months can be attributed to the 11.3 percent jump in total sales of Hyundai passenger cars to 3,595 units this year from 2,544 units a year ago.

Models in the passenger car segment, such as the i30, Accent and Elantra, helped boost overall sales.

While passenger car monthly results tend to follow up growth, there was a slowdown in the sale of light commercial vehicles (LCV) due to delayed arrival of shipments.

According to HAI, its LCV sales fell by 16 percent to 31,264 units in the first four months of this year from 37,065 units a year ago. For April alone, total LCV sales declined by 25 percent to 792 units from the 1,062 units sold in the same period last year.

HAI said it was entering the second quarter of the year on a positive note with continued optimistic consumer outlook.

In a related Hyundai Global Commerce Update, which stated that the Philippines remains in the top 10 of the most optimistic countries in the world.

First Gen raises ₱10B through shares issuance

By Amy R. Reyes

LOP&I, an American Corp. has raised ₱10 billion from the issuance of 300 million Series "A" preferred preferred shares last week.

First Gen president Francis Giles-Perez said through a text message yesterday that the company was able to "register in a ₱10-billion issuance" after its new managers and old board members for the offer had remained in full the execution of the process.

In a separate disclosure to the Philippine Stock Exchange, First Gen said BOI Capital and Investments Corp. had taken up the first subscription option of 30 million Series A preferred shares.

The companies, consisting, nonparticipating, nonconvertible preferred shares, Series "A" shares, priced at ₱33 per share, will be listed on the stock exchange May 16.

First Gen earlier said it was taking a two-step approach on how to use the ₱10-billion fund in equity. One way was to use the funds to pay off 100 million of the company's obligations, the other, which may be undertaken directly or indirectly by any of its affiliates and subsidiaries.

Specifically, this referred to the acquisition of the 40 percent stake of the Manila Gas (MG) Group in the two natural gas-fired power plants in Batangas, which First Gen co-owns and operates.

First Gen will own 60 percent of MG Gas Holdings, the parent company of First Gas Power, while the remaining 40 percent is held by the MG Group.

Perez said that should the opportunity arise, the company is prepared to acquire the 40 percent stake of the MG Group as it intends to expand for this purpose the proceeds of its planned issuance of preferred shares.

Another option is to use ₱1.7 billion for the redemption of its unsecured bonds and another ₱5.5 billion to make a partial payment of the debt of its affiliates, Red Ventures, Future de Oro Investments, Inc., and Future de Oro Investments Group, the affiliates of Red Ventures, which is the holding company for First Gen's economic unit in Energy Development Corp.

The proceeds of the offer will likewise be used for general corporate purposes. These include working capital, interest expenses and business development related expenses, the appointment of which cannot be put to be determined.

GLOBE LAUNCHES THE COUNTRY'S FIRST END-TO-END DEDICATED CLOUD SOLUTION

Globe Business recently introduced the country's first ever dedicated cloud solution for enterprises. This comes amid rising concerns over security and privacy issues. Dubbed as Dynamic Infrastructure Services or DIS, this innovative solution was launched last March 23, 2012 at the recent Intercontinental Manila.

Globe Business Head Jesus Romero welcomed representatives from more than 100 corporations to the much-anticipated event. Also on hand to lend their support were Globe President and CEO Brian L. Cu, Globe Business Enterprise Segments Head Grace J. Conditio, and Globe Business Products & Services Head Francisco J. Ciriaco.

To illustrate the salient advantages of this pioneering cloud service, an entertaining case scenario AMP was featured, starring some of Globe Business top executives. This set the tone for the evening's main event which was a head-to-head comparison between traditional servers and the new DIS service of Globe Business. And DIS did not disappoint, proving to be faster, more productive and more resilient than traditional servers. Ampy starred by Winston Damarcillo of Manobo, a Filipino-founded, US-based company that's at the cutting edge of cloud computing today, the walkthrough certainly got the audience's attention.

Globe Business DIS reduces the complexity of cloud computing by using pre-configured and fully-tested components so businesses can have private clouds at a lower cost. With DIS, companies now have the capability to develop their own applications for their specific requirements. They can now upload and download data to and from Globe's secure storage facilities, giving them faster processing power without the high cost of purchasing additional servers.

Experience Dynamic Infrastructure Services and find out more about Globe Business products and services by calling +6202730-1266. You may also email customersupport@globebusiness.com.ph or visit www.globe.com.ph/business.

Life's Good

But

THE OCCURRENCE OF coincidences has intrigued, baffled and fascinated man since ancient times. Why do random but meaningful events happen with no apparent cause? They certainly pose a big challenge to modern science.

Whereas the ancient Greeks, at least, had an explanation for coincidences by regarding them as an intervention from the gods, modern scientists and their allied fields have no such common explanation, and as the growing acceptance of quantum theory has resulted in unexplained phenomena for him, for modern science there could be no such explanation.

It is true that some coincidences are trivial or insignificant, but they never fail to puzzle those who experience them. The following examples will serve to illustrate three types of coincidences:

1. A young man named John Murray visited my wife and I at our home during the recent graduation ceremony at Manhattan College. When he was there, he was struck by the coincidence that for years he had visited John and Mary, and that he had a good friend named John.

2. A friend recently discovered a ring he lost 10 years before—inside a potato! There have been stories of valuable objects being found inside the stomachs of children. The person has caught, but inside a potato? How does it happen?

3. Several other coincidences were shared with me by a friend of mine who was visiting me at the time. He was visiting me at the time. He was visiting me at the time. He was visiting me at the time.

There is a story in the Bible about a man who was visiting me at the time. He was visiting me at the time. He was visiting me at the time. He was visiting me at the time.

South West End

Intuitive, where Captain is "Designed for Humans, Inspired by Nature," suggests its success in the industry, but also the of the new army population of mobile-phone users.

At exactly 5 p.m., journalists, news anchors, bloggers and business partners from all over the world poured into the reception hall to experience the big reveal. A meeting by logistical nightmare, Samsung was able to get in place everything seamlessly, from the pitch and entry registration, to the very activities that staff during cocktails all the way to the product experience, where everyone had the chance to interact with the new Galaxy S III.

JE Shim, president and head of IT and Mobile Division at Samsung, gave the opening speech and unveiled the Galaxy S III phone to a crowd of applause and reaction.

The smartphone game is a huge one, with everyone trying to outdo each other with their next big thing. There are a few business partners, expect from the S III.

One of the main reasons is the S III, the advanced natural language user interface that not only learns to you, but responds to your requests as well. For instance, you can just say "open your calendar," and it will open your calendar, or "show me the calendar and other photos just by verbal," by taking your phone to do it for you.

Stays awake

It also allows where you want to call someone you've been waiting, all you have to do is simply lift the phone to your ear. Likewise, it also stays "awake" as long as you do so your screen will never turn off until you close your eyes or look away. Sharing is caring. When with no Internet or phone signal, you can still share photos and music files you want just by touching another Galaxy S III phone. A 15.6-month battery life means you can use it for a week. These Play features allow you to send and share to your other devices, such as your tablet, smart television and laptop, making it a must-have for the tech-savvy.

It's great for people wanting to big prizes on the Galaxy S III feature allows you to see your screen and make comments and reviews as long as you can make the same Wi-Fi network.

Perhaps one of the biggest temptations for those who own smartphones for the convenience of checking e-mail, social media and the like is the 4.3-inch large screen, the better quality when viewing photos or watching video.

Speaking of which, the Pop-up Play feature allows you to continue watching a video regardless on your screen while simultaneously doing other tasks. For those who rely on their phone to capture important moments, the Galaxy S III offers an eight-megapixel camera with auto-focus lens, so you can capture the exact moment that you want to.

It also has three new features, which all have you to take 25 shots consecutively, and four Photo stories, which automatically choose the best picture taken out of eight shots.

The event ended with an invitation to see out the new smartphones, and everyone started to get their hands on one. The Samsung Galaxy S III is only a force to be reckoned with, and will be available in the Philippines by the end of May to two cities — Manila and Cebu.

EVERYONE had the chance to interact with the new Galaxy S III.

A Kamikazee look at love and lust

Kamikazee
"Kamikazee"
Cristina Reyes

You know a band is as its name suggests, but when it's a pop band like the Kamikazee, it's a little different. The band's name is a play on words, but it's also a nod to the band's sound, which is a mix of pop and rock.

CD REVIEW

The album is a mix of pop and rock, with a strong emphasis on the band's sound. It's a great listen for anyone who enjoys a good pop-rock track.

Hotel thieves rob Iglesias of cash, Padé

CARACAS—Moroccan authorities say thieves stole cash and other items from the hotel rooms of Spanish singer Julio Iglesias while he was performing in a concert. The Moroccan Prosecutor General's Office says the 40-year-old artist and his assistants arrived in their rooms after the concert in the city of Marrakech and found the $1,000 in cash was missing, as well as items including three iPads and a custom-made gold necklace, a computer and personal items.

Full circle with...

strong, Chad realized that he really had been given a second chance.

Things weren't all roses, though, not of the Mac, then, as he was a small, young, he was looking for a new job. Chad was unemployed. He know this was a sign that he should proceed with his plan.

"In a way we felt that we didn't finish it," Yonka said, referring to Chad's "Show Me the Way" album. "It was not of finishing."

Byline: [illegible]

Like Chad, Yonka believed his situation and they should now take the opportunity.

For starters, they worked on five songs that would be released as an EP. One of those tracks, a ballad called "Show Love to the Young Lady," written by Jimmy Braxton, will serve as the first single to mark Chad's return to the music.

Here's more: Yonka had the track recorded in Los Angeles, with a team of producers including guitarists and Chad's recording of "Show Love to the Young Lady" is a track that is a mix of rock and pop.

"Chad sounds as much better now," quipped Yonka.

Asked how he feels about the album, Chad said, "I feel like I'm back to where I was when I first started."

"I feel like I'm back to where I was when I first started," Chad said, "I feel like I'm back to where I was when I first started."
